College in the Schools Attendance Policy:

Students are expected to attend all classes. In the event of an absence for any reason, it is the responsibility of the student to arrange for completion of missed course work. Excessive absence for any reason (except school excused absences including athletic, extracurricular, and field trip activities) may lead to a reduction in grade.

- In CIS courses each unexcused absence will lead to a grade reduction of one full letter grade. After four unexcused absences in a semester, students are removed from the course with a grade of F (FN). Failure for non-attendance.
- Students who miss 10 or more class meetings in a semester for any reason (except school excused absences including athletic, extracurricular, and field trip activities) may be withdrawn from the CIS course and placed in a similar high-school-credit-only course.
- Students who fail to complete CIS course work for 14 consecutive days will be removed from the course with a grade of F.
- The above policy combines expectations from our CIS partners: FDLTCC and UMD.

Academic Integrity Addendum for College in the Schools Courses:

Clarifying the Esko High School Honesty and Integrity policy, please note that the use of generative AI (Artificial Intelligence) applications to supplant or enhance student work without teacher permission and appropriate citation will be treated as cheating. Unauthorized use of generative AI will be subject to school and academic consequences at both Esko High School and the partner post-secondary institution. Esko High School College in the Schools courses will abide by the generative AI policies of the respective partner institutions for the course in which the student is enrolled (UMD or FDLTCC).
